RETURNS:

The following items were RETURNED by the Laurel Office:

Aislinn Blackburn. Name. The Laurel Office returned this name on technical grounds believing it to be two steps from period practice and hence not allowable for registration. Their reasoning for this was that Aislinn has been ruled a modern Gaelic name but “Society-compatible”. They consider that the use of a “Society-compatible” name is now a step from period practice and also that the mixture of Gaelic and English (as Blackburn is English) is also a step from period practice. The Laurel staff specifically said that she could use a Gaelic name documented in period with Blackburn or could use a name that is found in an English context and sounds alike such as Ascelina or Acelina. Indeed, only the submitter’s limitation on changes to then name prevented their registering it as Ascelina Blackburn.

Layla al-Mua’llima. Name. While al-Mua’llima was adequately documented as a period name element, the Laurel Office returned the name as a whole as presumptuous since Mua’llima has been officially adopted as an Arabic alternative for the peerage title “Mistress” in the Society.

Your servant,

Alisoun
